Access control from the very best ...From simple stand-alone keypads to integrated online control systems and the latest in Biovisual body mass analysis Meesons have the solution.

Biovisual Control Systems: SMACS

Probably the most secure access control system of them all.

Simply because we are all different, we are all instantly identifiable.

Innovative reader technology checks our 3D personal profile and only when it matches does it allow access, effectively controlling who comes in and who goes out.

Biometric and Biovisual analysis can be integrated with existing access control systems to further enhance security.

Electronic & Biometric Control Systems

Modern electronic access control systems deliver a cost effective solution to managing who does and who doesn’t get into a building.

Internal or external keyboards, card swipes, proximity readers and biometric authentication are all part of Meesons’ access control armoury, along with integrated online systems managing 1 to 128 doors, or interlocking systems which control as many doors as required.

All Meesons’ electronic control systems can be linked to intruder or fire alarms.

Mechanical Control Systems

With Meesons’ range of mechanical access control systems rest assured - they are more than up to the job of controlling who gets in and who doesn’t!

Simple, quick and easy to install with no need for wiring or batteries.

Keypads are easy to re programme and are ideally suited for areas with mass people volume and low security zone areas.

Video and Speech Control Systems

The cost effective solution primarily for residential use or for commercial applications in low security zones where access is limited into one area.

Ideal for care homes, apartment blocks and multi office lobbies where there is a constant visitor flow to different locations.
