

Controlling Access... The vital element in DATA security.

Improving security through efficient
'people control'.

Data Security
from the very best

“Look I don’t want to read all about us in the Telegraph, what I need to be assured of is that you have the security to keep our information safe and that includes who comes in!”.

Today we are on the information highway. Data has to be stored somewhere - somewhere secure where people access is strictly controlled.

Meesons, the UK’s leading provider of physical security solutions, deliver improved security through effective access control and tailgating management systems to the world’s leading financial institutions.

Meesons are the ‘one stop shop’ security solution provider. Our skilled technical and installation teams manage the whole process through to completion. We work with you to deliver the security system for your needs, to control people access throughout the building.

Meesons, and their global partners, have created a range of anti-tailgating security solutions to suit all data centre environments.

Security solutions that allow those you want in IN, and those you don’t- KEPT OUT.

Security Portals

Keeping Data Secure through effective ‘people control’.

Controlling entry into secure or restricted areas demands the best in ‘people control’ to combat the improving expertise of those who wish to gain unauthorised entry.

Security Portals offer the perfect physical barrier to tailgating in the Data Centre environment with minimal building works, flexible footprints and robust anti-attack certifications.

SMACS

Letting People you want in ...keeping people you don’t out.

SMACS 3D Recognition and BioVisual Mass Control Analysis.

People have different features, SMACS innovative sensor technology checks personal profiles and only when they match is access allowed. Simple yet highly effective access control.

SMACS seamlessly integrates with our range of access control systems or your existing system.

SMACS the missing link in access control delivering 24 hour security 365 days a year

Turnstiles

One at a time - controlling people to create a safer environment.

Today's offices create an open and informal atmosphere. They need to be welcoming, yet Data Centres demand the highest security. Not an easy task.

Managing who goes where in a busy office is never easy; Meesons' turnstiles and control systems deliver improved security and 'people control' throughout the building.

Easygate - with its contemporary look and feel takes 'people control' to a new dimension, seamlessly integrating with all access control systems to deliver unparalleled security.

Meesons' turnstiles include the Pegas collection, bar and round turnstiles and a wide range of accessories for all security applications. For further information visit www.meesons.com.

All Meesons' turnstiles are fitted with fail safe electric motors.

Counters and Screens

Retractable screens - improved security through enhanced staff protection.

Staff are the weak point in any security application. Creating the right environment through enhanced staff protection delivers improved data security.

Developed for data centres and financial institutions amongst others, the retractable glazing screen developed by Meesons moves into the desired position at the touch of a button to create a secure and safe environment.

Our unique 'one stop shop' for data centres offers a totally bespoke solution.

We design, manufacture and install counter units and accessories for a wide range of screen configurations, and glass specifications to suit all office applications.

Our counters and screens ensure DDA compliance.
